

Coach Meeting – 19-03-2026

Direction & Focus

- There is no need to further analyze data on phone and social media usage, as the impact has already been well established.
- Focus should shift toward behavioral change: understanding how individuals can become aware of their usage patterns and change their habits.
- Explore different strategies and tools that encourage awareness and behavior change:
  - Current tools and interventions available
  - Effectiveness of each approach
  - Potential for personal testing through user studies or experiments

Questions to Consider

- How can we effectively demonstrate behavior change in Fitphone?
- The client's idea may not align directly with Fitphone's core goal, can we explain and showcase this discrepancy clearly?

Example References

- Dries de Poorter – Personal projects on digital well-being
- Famavolat – Apps or tools promoting mindful phone use
- Opal – Phone usage management solutions
- CNET Article – Physical interventions to reduce phone addiction